Since the University of Sydney was founded in the 1850s, a time of limitless hope and ambition, St Paul's College has stood within and beside it. Both welcomed government encouragement and ever since have depended on gifts, benefactions and philanthropy.

Ours is the original college within Australia's oldest University. Now, as the delivery of education continues to evolve and the University of Sydney expands to over 60,000 students, St Paul's College must build on its proud heritage. We will offer facilities and programmes that support the requirements of modern student and academic life, while preserving the College's sense of place and belonging.

To expand our contribution to education, the University of Sydney and the wider community, we invite YOU to help us

SHAPE TOMORROW.

If you would like to discuss making a pledge or to up-date your personal records held by the College please contact Richard Morgan (78), Director of Community Development on t. 02 9550 7472, m. 0412 016117 or email: community@stpauls.edu.au
