

Judicial Appointments for two distinguished alumni

- The Honourable Justice John Dyson Heydon (1960-64) was sworn in as a Justice of the High Court of Australia on 11th February 2003.

Born in Ottawa, Canada, Justice Heydon was educated in London, Wellington and Rio de Janeiro, before attending Shore School and then St Paul's College. He graduated from Sydney University with a BA and an MA and won the Rhodes Scholarship to study law at Oxford University in 1964. He was awarded a Vinerian Scholarship in 1967.

From 1973, Justice Heydon was Professor of Law at the University of Sydney, the youngest ever professor of law in the English speaking world. A prolific legal author, writing mainly on Evidence, Equity and Trusts, Heydon became Dean of the University of Sydney Law School in 1978, again the youngest person ever to hold the position. His Honour commenced active practice at the New South Wales Bar in 1980, developing specialties in Trade Practices, Company Law, Equity and Trusts. He was appointed Queen's Counsel in 1987 and was involved in many high-profile cases, including the Super League case. At the time of his appointment to the High Court, Justice Heydon was a judge of the NSW Court of Appeal having been appointed in February 2000.

- The Honourable Justice William Henric Nicholas (1958-61, current Chairman of Council) was appointed to the NSW Supreme Court on 5 February 2003.

Born in Orange, Justice Nicholas grew up in Tumut, went to The King's School and studied Arts/Law at Sydney University where he was resident at St Paul's College.

Admitted to the Bar in 1966, Justice Nicholas developed a strong practice in Commercial Law and Equity before making a particular mark in the area of Defamation and Media law. His Honour was appointed one of Her Majesty's Counsel in September 1981.

In addition to numerous directorships of not-for-profit organisations, Justice Nicholas acted for two terms as Assistant Commissioner of the Independent Commission Against Corruption in 1997 and 1999. He served as a member of the Legal Profession Disciplinary Committee for a decade and was a member of the Legal Services Division of the Administrative Decisions Tribunal. He is a former member of the New South Wales Bar Association's Arbitrators Panel and, for three years, was a member of the Council of the Bar Association.

Justice Nicholas has been a Fellow of St Paul's College since 1987 and has been Chairman since 2001.

The Peter Bennie Memorial Chapel Choir Scholarships

A fund to support these Scholarships will be formally opened at the 2003 Carol Service on Tuesday 25 November, and will remain open through to the Sesquicentenary Year of 2006.

Peter had a great love of the music and worship of the College Chapel - a College and Chapel that he served faithfully and loved greatly.

Since Peter Bennie's time as Warden, the quality of music and the offering of Choral liturgy in the Chapel has continued to grow and flourish under the musical direction of Mr David Drury and the men and women who make up the St Paul's College Chapel Choir.

Since the day when members of the Pauline community gathered for Peter's Memorial Service in the College Chapel, there have been many thoughts about the best way to establish a living memorial for Peter. With his family's approval, I hope that we shall see The Peter Bennie Memorial Chapel Choir Scholarships providing an enduring resource that will assist young men and women to give freely of their time and talent to sing the praises of God in our Chapel down the long years ahead beyond the present generation. I can imagine in fifty years and more the College Choir entering the Chapel, led by the Peter Bennie Memorial Choral Scholars.

This venture will be conducted over the next three years and concluded during the Sesquicentenary year of 2006. The appeal will be maintained by the Warden through the weekly life of the Chapel and by regular update through Boomalakka.

I invite Paulines and other friends of Peter to contact me with expressions of interest or support for this fund.

Reverend Canon Dr Ivan Head
Warden

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir(s)

I am beginning to see that The Pauline, Boomalakka and Anglican World all seem intent on promulgating my departure from The International Commission for Anglican-Orthodox Theological Dialogue. Like the allegations of Mark Twain's death, all three reports of my "resignation" are slightly exaggerated.

I did not actually resign from the Commission, but was informed by Bishop David Hamid, (at that time the Ecumenical Secretary of The Anglican Communion) that I was to be replaced as a member of the Commission by one Rev'd Dr Duncan Reid, who is proving more than a worthy successor, and who is also a good friend. We attended the 2001 meeting at Volos, Greece, together.

As the meeting concluded I was duly farewelled, but on the following Monday, the Secretary of The Anglican Communion, Canon John Peterson, wrote asking if I would accept his appointment both as an "extraordinary consultant" and as a full member of the Commission until the conclusion of its present agenda, scheduled for 2005, or perhaps maybe even 2006

In that capacity I have since attended two meetings, one at Abergavenny, in Wales, and the second in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, and at both meetings, due to some most unfortunate events in the family of Bishop Mark Dyer, our permanent Co-Chairman, I have acted as Acting Co-Chairman.

So, the hour of my departure is certainly imminent, but perhaps you might inform any friends I have left, that celebrations appropriate to such an hour remain, for the moment at least, premature. I hope to be spared long enough to read future editions of Boomalakka and The Pauline correcting those previous erroneous reports.

By the way, may I add my congratulations to the Editors of both Boomalakka (March 2003) and The Pauline, 2001, which seem worthy to stand in the succession of fine editions.

Sincerely,

MM THOMAS

Council Election results

On 31 March 2003, in accordance with the College By-Laws, one clerical and two lay Fellowships became vacant. The incumbents were Mr Malcolm Harrison, Mr Stephen Ingate and The Reverend Dr Bruce Kaye - all were candidates for re-election. For the clerical vacancy, no further nominations were received and The Reverend Dr Bruce Kaye was declared re-elected as a clerical Fellow, pursuant to By-law 52(e), for a term of six years until 31 March, 2009. For the election of two lay Fellows, three nominations were received, including the incumbents standing for re-election. Mr Malcolm Harrison and Mr Stephen Ingate, were re-elected for a term of six years until 31 March, 2009.

Upcoming Events of Note

'Peter Boulton Day' - There will be a cricket match held on the College Oval on Sunday 21 September from 10.30am onwards. The match will be a pre-season, fifty-over game between St Paul's College and Residual SUCC Firsts and Fifts. The day will provide an enjoyable sporting fixture, include a luncheon, and an opportunity for the men in College to remember Peter Boulton (2001-02) who died in 2002 after a lengthy battle with cancer. Parents, friends and Old Boys are welcome on the day and are invited to bring a picnic lunch or supplies for a BBQ. The College Chapel Service on Tuesday 23 September at 7.45 pm will include a charity collection which will go to cancer research.

The Annual St Paul's College Carol Service
To be held at the College on Tuesday 25 November at 7.30pm. The Service will be followed by supper in the Junior Common Room and will also mark the launch of the Peter Bennie Memorial Chapel Choir Scholarships appeal. All Paulines and their friends are warmly invited to this outstanding Service.

‘Outside Sydney’

As the College’s sesquicentenary celebrations draw near, the Union is keen to involve the maximum number of Old Paulines. The Committee is especially keen to improve its contact with non-metropolitan members, and to facilitate contact between country-based Paulines who may find there are others living in their district. We would be grateful for any additions to these jottings on Paulines living outside the Sydney metropolitan area.

Rob Busby (1969-73, 2002-2003)

Northern NSW: The New England region is home to several Paulines. John Pidgeon (1956-60) has recently retired from running the family newsagency in Armidale to assist in the family’s other enterprise: growing peonies for the export market. Tony Deakin (1957-62) continues in his architecture practice; some of his more elegant works may be seen in the new Armidale Airport terminal, in the Cathedral Parish Hall and at The Armidale School. The School’s strong association with College was recently reinforced by the appointment of Tim Hughes (1983-86) to its Council. Tim has taken over running the family property near Glen Innes while freelancing for The Australian. Tim joins Rob Busby (now a resident tutor in College) and Pat Bradley (1976-79) (for many years Managing Director of New England Antimony Mines) on that governing body. Also on a property, near Armidale, is Brian Abbott (1967-68), who is active in the Armidale and District Show Society. David Willis (1967-69) has had a veterinary practice in the city for some time and for several years put his formidable skills as a marksman to good use in coaching the TAS Rifle Team. A more recent addition to the veterinary profession in Armidale is Scott Matthew (1993-94). To the west, near the town of Bundarra, is Wal Broun (1980-82).

In Tamworth can be found Robin Fisher (1947-52), awarded the OAM in the 2003 Australia Day Honours for his long service to the Tamworth community, and has been the RMO of the Hunter River Lancers for many years. Howard Barnes (1969) has also been a Tamworth resident for many years, teaching Maths at Oxley High School, and active in the evangelical movement. He and Jeanette are themselves now the parents of two university students, daughters at New College, UNSW. Also in the northwest is Ted Croft (1962), now on a property at Spring Ridge, near Quirindi, after many years at Barraba. In Lismore Michael Dent (1974-75) has been practising Dentistry for many years. Bill Bailey (1989-90, 92-93) has joined Oleo Industries, a seed, grain and vegetable oil trading company in Brisbane, with a factory near Moree, where he can also be found occasionally. And somewhere between Armidale and St George (Qld) can be found Peter Kemp (1969-70), who after many years in automotive electrical manufacturing businesses in Brisbane and South-East Asia, has returned to the servicing business he joined soon after leaving College. Nearby, Roger Buttenshaw (1968-69) has been teaching at Toowoomba Grammar School for many years – as Deputy Head for the past ten.

Central Western NSW: Between Rylstone and Mudgee Sandy Yeates (1969 & 71), wife Vicky (both of whom returned to College this year for Victoriana!) and family have an Aberdeen Angus stud. In Dubbo John North (1972-73), whose son James entered College this year, is a partner at the firm of North & Badgery. John divides his time between the firm’s Dubbo and Sydney offices, serves on the Kambala School Council, and is on the Executive of the Law Council of Australia. Stephen Lee (1976-78) lives near Molong. He was married earlier this year.

Southern NSW: Guy Milson’s (1969-72) honeyed tones are occasionally heard on the ABC morning quiz, live from his Southern Tablelands property near Yarra, where he lives with wife Tina and five children. Ian Erratt (1962-65) has been a partner in the legal firm of Commins Hendriks in Wagga since 1991 and specialises in insurance work with particular emphasis on statutory liability and public liability. A more recent arrival in Wagga is Hamish White (1987-89), who several years ago moved from Rabobank’s Sydney office, to the Riverina, where he is now Senior Manager. Hamish and Virginia have purchased a property at nearby Borambola and with Annabel (4) and Sidney (2) find farm life most agreeable. Another farmer in the district is Philip Ward (1969-71). Phil and Leonie quit the city life and its corporate jungle some years ago to take up a mixed grazing property half an hour south of Wagga, from which he commutes to Melbourne in leisurely fashion to consult, as needed, for Rio Tinto Australia. After several years as an engineer, Nick Austin (1992-94) is back on the farm near Adelong. Hugh Crawford (1992-95) is ‘on the farm’ at Wallendbeen. Further south Andrew Todd (1986-89), formerly in Moree, is now a veterinary surgeon in Holbrook, just around the corner from the practice of William Tindal (1963)

In Wodonga Michael Forsythe (1987-90) has a senior operations management role with Uncle Ben’s. Also across the border side is Will Winter (1981-82), now on a property at Alan’s Flat. Over the snowfields is James Maslin (1976-78), at Bombala, and in the Southern capital James Connah (1988-91), married last year to Sarah Walker, has recently completed three months as a mentor to final year veterinary students at Melbourne University; he is now doing locums. He and Sarah live in North Melbourne. Peter Fayle (1979, 1981-83) is also a Melbournian, living at Warranwood, and has spent some years in the fields of pharmacology and tropical pathology.

A similar piece will appear in the next edition of Boomalakka. While it will focus on Paulines in the Newcastle and Hunter region, there will be plenty of room to augment the information which appears in these notes, and to ‘visit’ other areas such as the Blue Mountains and Southern Highlands. If you wish to make a contribution, please contact the Editor!

Arts News

- In the last edition of Boomalakka it was noted that Michael Blakemore (1948-49) had been appointed an Officer in the Order of Australia. What the Editor did not know was that he had also been awarded an OBE for services to drama in the 2003 New Year's Honours (UK).
- Hamish Rosser (1992-94) worked all of 2 months at CSR before realising he would much rather play the drums for a living. Hamish's involvement in legendary St Paul's band BigPhallica was partly responsible for this, though hitting the skins had always been a passion. He worked in music stores, as a barman at The Basement and played in various bands of dubious quality before landing a contract with Sixties Sensation a cover band playing in small casinos in the USA. He eventually tired of his wig and Sgt Pepper outfit and has now fallen on his feet, playing for The Vines, a band that has been hailed as 'the New Nirvana' and whose first album was released in July 2002. Their first single went top-40 in the UK and they are based in Hollywood where they essentially lead the rock-star lifestyle of trashing hotel rooms, shooting videos and hobnobbing with celebs!

Sporting news

- Alistair Baxter (1996-98) recently 'emerged from the shadows of the NSW bench' to win his first Wallabies jumper in the Bledisloe Cup decider in Auckland.
- A current student, Daniel Halangahu, recently represented Australia at the Under-21 World Cup rugby tournament held in England.
- Two current College residents were successful in the recent World Under-23 Rowing Championships. Nick Hudson (1st Year Environmental Science) was a member of the gold medal-winning men's quad scull team. Michael Valli (2nd Year Aeronautical Engineering) was in the bronze medal-winning men's VIII.
- An All-star 'Old Boys' Soccer team recently played two games against the College as a prelude to the Intercol season. Alex Cowdery (1992-94) and Alex Edwards (1991-93) organised a crack 'Old Boys' team which won the first game 2-1 and was defeated in the second game 3-5. Although the actual scores are debatable, including an Adam Spencer goal from 50 yards that may have just snuck under the rugby goal posts...the results stand.

In October 2000 Richard was promoted to Chief Operating Officer. His brief includes responsibility for all DTH Satellite Operations (including customer service, field operations and logistics), new product development, joint ventures and managing Sky's commercial relationships with channel suppliers, cable operators and other third parties. Richard joined B SkyB from FOXTEL, where he was Director of Operations and Business Development. Prior to that he was Director of Legal and Business Affairs, and worked at FOXTEL since its inception. Paul Hennessy (1982-84) is head of global client management for CIBC World Markets, operating out of their Toronto, Canada, office. Paul married Shana, a Toronto local, 8 years ago. After a few years in Sydney they moved to Toronto where they recently celebrated the birth of their second son. Gordon Walker (1982-84) is Professor of Law, Chair of Corporations Law, at La Trobe University. His current fields of research include Securities Regulation, Globalization, Corporations and Corporate Governance, and Electronic Commerce. He teaches Corporations Law, E-Commerce and Cyberspace Law, Law, Economics and Society. Joel Butler (1989-90) (now known as Joel Thrum) is currently in the RAN finishing off the first part of training to be a Seaman Officer at HMAS Creswell, Jervis Bay. Simon Mainwaring (1985-86) is in LA and married with 2 children. Peter Blair (1986-90) is working in Sudan for the UNHCR and is about to move to Gaza with UNWRA. Paul Simos (1985-86) is currently in Los Angeles. David Freeman (1986-87) is a Legal Officer in the Australian Defence Force and is currently based with the Task Group in the Middle East. He returned home in July. John Thompson (1987-89) has joined the Hughes Pettit partnership. Neil Lawrie (1982-83, 86), after slogging away in the IT industry for many years, is now living in the Blue Mountains renovating a couple of houses with his wife Laura. Andrew Wennerbom (1982-84), Patrick Allaway (1980-81) and Michael Hawker (1978-82) are all honorary members of the recently established Sydney University Football Club Foundation.

1990s – Andrew Sinclair (1991-94) – reports that he moved to Houston in October 2002 to help establish a new Oil and Gas finance business for Macquarie Bank. Successfully managed to find both cricket and rugby clubs but no decent beaches and the coffee is rubbish. Otherwise having great time. David Thomas (1996-01) is currently working as the Associate to Justice Gummow at the High Court of Australia. Ben Gisz (1996-98) recently moved from CSFB to Investec. David Evans (1990-93, 00) is still working with Médecins Sans Frontières and is currently in Niger for their meningitis epidemic. Tony Chappel (1994-95) is currently doing an MBA at the Australian Graduate School of Management and James Swinburn (1994-97) has just completed his. Angus Trigg (1993-96) has moved sideways from advising politicians to Gavin Anderson and Company, which advises clients on high-stakes financial, corporate and public affairs communications. Edward Sanders (1994-97) has left the law and now works as Commercial Manager at Frontiers Group Australasia, which specialises in sporting event management, sponsorship and promotion. He is also the Club Captain of Colleagues RUFC. Michael Martin (1992, 1994-5) is currently in Fiji working for Air Pacific. Jamie Platt (1992-95) is currently working for Droneon, a small Australian biotech company, commercialising therapeutic devices. Christopher North (1994-95) got a Special Mention (ie third) in the Melbourne

International/Triple J Raw Comedy Festival Finals in April 2003, and was offered gigs back in Sydney - Adam Spencer (1992-95) was the co-host of the event. Andrew Slatter (1996) reports that he moved back to Sydney last year after 3 years in Tokyo and 2 years in Adelaide, to return to full time studies completing a Masters in Ag Economics and a Masters in Applied Finance (Macquarie). He is now working for ANZ and Meat and Livestock Australia. Hamish Corlett (1999) has just commenced a full-time position as Cranbrook School's Careers Counsellor. He will be teaching commerce, business studies and economics and, of course, coaching rugby and getting involved in a range of other co-curricular activities. Brian Rogers (1999) is working in London for Channel 4 in a commercial project management role. Chris Joye (1995) is a Visiting Economist at The Menzies Research Centre. In 1999, Chris completed a Joint Honours degree in Economics and Finance at Sydney University for which he received the University Medal. In January 2000, he presented two of the three studies deriving from his Honours thesis at Harvard, Yale and Stern. His research on financial markets has been published in several financial newspapers and magazines. Chris has previously worked with Goldman Sachs, in London, New York and Sydney, and the Reserve Bank of Australia. In March 2002, he commenced a Masters of Philosophy in Management Studies at the University of Cambridge, and is a Cambridge University Commonwealth Trust scholarship holder. Tim Horton (1995-96) has moved to a new architectural firm, Johnson Pilton Walker. Roly Clifton-Bligh (1996-20) is leaving Ernst & Young to undertake postgraduate study in Scotland. Mike Hayes (1992-95) has been working in the Hunter Area Health system for the last 4 years. He is currently a basic trainee in adult medicine and hopes to sit the physician exam next year. Matthew Gerber (1993-96, 01) has taken up a posting in Islamabad with the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade.

00s – Matthew Gibbs (1999-2002) will be working in Papua New Guinea as a Youth Ambassador with UNICEF for a year from September.
