

Rawson Cup Comes Home!

1990-2003. End of twelve-year drought.

After more than a decade, the Rawson Cup has returned to St Paul's in the closest competition for many years. In what was a truly tremendous competition in 2003, the winner was not decided until the final sport of the year, Athletics. Although Paul's, Andrew's and Wesley were all possible winners on the night, the real competition was between Paul's and Wesley.

Paul's established an early lead in the season through domination in the traditional Rawson sports. St Paul's again won the cricket under the leadership of Sydney University First Grade captain, Shane Stanton. In rowing, St Paul's recorded its fourth straight win in impressive style, pulling away from the St Andrew's VIII by several lengths. Special mention must go to the Senior Student, Hadley Milne, who has been central to the crew over all four years of Rawson Cup dominance.

Playing without star freshers Daniel Halangahu (Australian Schoolboys' XV) and Luke Inman (NSW Waratahs), the St Paul's rugby XV proved its depth in claiming yet another Victory Dinner for the College, with strong victories over all three Colleges.

St Paul's was then forced to watch its lead diminish as it suffered its perennial mid-season blues. Swimming saw Paul's come in third place, whilst in tennis, Paul's was came a disappointing second following a painful and freakish on-court injury to key player, Christian Le Loux.

The soccer team was also unable to guarantee the return of the Rawson Cup, despite valiant efforts on the field. An early loss to St Andrew's College was more than made-up for by a vigorous and hard-won defeat of the much-fancied Wesley side. St Andrew's College continued its winning form to claim the soccer and turn the competition into a three-horse race.

Basketball once again proved the College's Achilles' Heel. Although putting in months of pre-season training, and despite coming agonisingly close, the team was unable to break the College's 13-match losing streak, stretching back to 1999. The collapse of the all-star American St John's team led to the worst possible outcome for St Paul's, with three Colleges within reach of the Rawson Cup at the start of Athletics, and the College needing a second to guarantee the return of 'Harry'. A strong team effort saw this challenge ably met, with Paul's coming within a whisker of victory.

This saw Paul's win the Rawson Cup outright for the first time since 1990 (NB St Paul's tied with St Andrew's in 1996). The Rawson Cup Victory Dinner was celebrated in fine style, with a superb combination of revived traditions and new touches. However, it was not until the Warden raised the Cup and drained it of the Moët & Chandon, that the College was truly able to claim that it had 'brought Harry Home'! [See Results on Page 3]

Fellow of St Paul's College, 1972-2003; Vice-Warden, 1960

It is with much sadness that the St Paul's College Union reports the passing of Dr Ken Cable.

His extraordinary range of commitments and involvements to many Sydney institutions including St Paul's College will be recorded in the 2003 edition of The Pauline.

End of 'Milno' Era: Sub-Warden to Depart

by The Warden

James Bell presents Hamish Milne with a farewell gift from the Warden and Fellows

When Hamish Milne MPhil MBA leaves St Paul's at the end of 2003, not only will he leave a big Sub-Wardenical gap, but many other areas of College life will experience 'the void' until new men step up.

Hamish has been 'Mr College' and most areas in which things actually get done have felt his touch. Boomalakka is one domain in which he has been the sine qua non since 1996. Many editions of The Pauline (and many Paulines in residence) have been rescued by him, and he has been Union Secretary since Sept 2000.

Hamish entered College in 1992, was Assistant Sub-Warden in 1997-8 and became Sub-Warden in April 1999. His academic pathway to the MPhil was focussed on the history of St Paul's, and with the death of Ken Cable, Hamish's theses 'The Origins of St Paul's College 1850-1875, and 'Another Fifty Years - St Paul's College 1900-1950' become indispensable works towards the long awaited and much hoped for College history, not only as fixed texts, but as the works of a current voice that knows and loves the place. Hamish worked as Assistant Business Manager for the College through the period of Albert Wing planning and construction, and again into the great Olympic venture when Westpac staff from all over Australia enjoyed our hospitality. He then undertook a full-time MBA at the Australian Graduate School of Management.

I am glad of the opportunity to put in print my thanks to Hamish. He has always supported the College at every level of its life, and it has been a pleasure to have him in the Sub-Warden's Chair these several years.

On behalf of the College I wish Hamish every happiness in his move to Perth, Western Australia, and look forward to a West Australian column in great editions of Boomalakka to come.

College Sesquicentenary and Alumni Officer

As part of planning and implementing celebrations for the 150th anniversary of the College in 2006, the College will be making this new appointment.

The Sesquicentenary and Alumni Officer will assist the Warden for the equivalent of 3 days per week from February 2004. The appointee will report directly to the Warden but liaise actively with other senior members of staff, the Sesquicentenary Committee, the St Paul's College Union and the St Paul's College Foundation.

The appointee will work with the Committee to plan, develop, publicise and implement the events of 2006 and those leading up to it, and to strengthen connections between Paulines and their College.

An ideal person to fill the position will exist amongst Paulines or friends or colleagues. The appointee will be a person of initiative, and will take a personal interest in the programs and events of the College, its alumni, friends and supporters; seeking to consolidate and strengthen alumni interest in the College. The appointment may extend beyond the Sesquicentenary year.

A more full description of the position can be obtained from the Warden's Secretary, Mrs Alison Rosenberg.

Sub-Warden from 2004

Expressions of Interest

The Warden wishes to appoint a Sub-Warden in good time for the 2004 Academic year.

The Sub-Warden represents the Warden in a number of College and intercollegiate settings, and has a particular responsibility for the evening and weekend aspects of College life. The Sub-Warden leads by example in deepening and strengthening the College ethos.

This residential position may suit a person currently involved in the University or a person with experience of College life whose professional circumstances are consistent with the ordinary routines of the College Calendar.

The College is made up of undergraduate (150) and graduate (40) members, and the Sub-Warden has defined roles with respect to the Students' Club and with the Council of the College.

The Sub-Warden assists the Senior Tutor with the life of the Senior Common Room, and participates in the ordinary and celebratory calendar of the College year. The College dines together formally five nights a week.

To the extent that the College needs a disciplinary officer, the Sub-Warden carries out this role.

The Sub-Warden, with the Assistant Sub-Warden and a number of residential assistants, maintains a duty-profile of after hours and weekend service within the College.

An attractive on-campus apartment is provided as well as an honorarium.

It is possible that the position may be combined with other roles within the College, such as Alumni & Development, and Chaplaincy to make it a full time position.

Inquiries and expressions of interest should be sent to:

The Warden, The Rev'd Canon Dr Ivan Head,
 St Paul's College, Sydney University NSW 2006
 or by E-mail to: ihead@mail.usyd.edu.au

‘Outside Sydney’

Newcastle & The Hunter: Our ranks in Newcastle include: Jack Sippe (61-65) (whose son Angus was in College until recently) and Jim Cannington (54-59), who carries on the family’s legal practice, one of the oldest in the Hunter.

Warren Pengilly (57-62) has for ten years been Professor of Commercial Law at the University of Newcastle. He looks forward to the birth of his first grandchild and retirement next year. He remains Special Counsel with Deacons with which firm he was a partner for ten years (1983-1993). Warren was awarded the 2002 Convocation Medal for Professional excellence and, in 2003, the Centenary Medal for devotion to law, the enhancement of education and promoting international understanding.

Some of the medicos in the area include Leonard Allen (69-74) (Nuclear Med at Royal Newcastle), Andrew Harrison (73-77) (Dentist), Robert Henderson (70-75) (Ophthalmic Surgeon), Allan White (63-68) (Psychiatrist), and Michael Hayes (92-95) (basic trainee in adult medicine). Further up the valley Richard Abbott (1974) has a medical practice in Singleton. David Evans (90-93, 00) still with Médecins sans Frontières.

David Barton (79-81), a veterinarian, is at the Cessnock Veterinary Hospital.

Arts News

- Evan Kanarakis (93-98) has had his first book published - 'Sex, Drugs and Mum in the Front Row - The Trials & Tribulations of the Pub Rock Band' (Allen & Unwin). A humorous look at the pub rock music scene in Australia, the book was launched on 29 October at the Annandale Hotel by Adam Spencer (92-95). Adding to the Pauline flavour of the evening, the original line-up of legendary College band Bigphallica (Tim Bullock, Morgan O'Neill, Damian de Boos-Smith, Jock Elder, Hamish Rosser, Simon Erratt) thrilled the crowd, reforming after 6 years! Appleseed (Tim Elder, Jock Elder, Bob Trigg) also played after a two-year hiatus from the pub rock scene. The music for the night wrapped up with Live at Nine (Hugh Nicholas). A capacity crowd was predominantly made up of Paulines of various vintages spanning 1988-2002.

- In early October, two Paulines were prominently involved in the SSO Concert at the Opera House conducted by Sir Charles Mackerras, which included the first performance in Australia of the original version of Janacek's Glagolitic Mass. David Drury (Director of Music) played the organ, which has an extensive part in the piece - including a solo section all of its own; and Antony Chesterman (84-85) ('on loan' from the Australian Chamber Orchestra) played oboe.

- Gordon Beattie (70-72) is a freelance writer, director, trainer and consultant with over 30 years professional experience in Theatremaking. He is now a director of the creative consultancy Arrow Solutions and is working as a consultant in Canberra for both the Jigsaw Theatre Company and for the National Museum of Australia. He also runs the Brogo River Bakery in Southern NSW, which specialises in sourdough gourmet and health breads.

Paulines in Phnom Penh

2003 has seen a 200% increase in the Old Pauline community in Cambodia. Nicolas McConnell (formerly Nic Jools, 93-96) working as an Engineer on various provincial infrastructure construction projects with the Snowy Mountains Engineering Corporation, was joined this year by Edward Nicholas (94-95) and Tim de Mestre (88-91) and their respective partners.

Edward lives in Phnom Penh working as a legal adviser with regional law firm, DF DL, and his wife, Sarah, is expecting their first child. Tim is a business development adviser with the AusAID-funded Agricultural Quality Improvement Program and also lives in Phnom Penh with wife, Vanessa, and their son, Darcy.

Edward and Tim have added new potency to the second row of Phnom Penh's rugby side, Les Pilliers d'Angkor (The Pillars of Angkor), while Nic's sporting contribution since his appearance in the capital has been limited to touch football, in which he has shown no improvement since he was Tip Convenor in 1994!

Assistant Sub-Warden from 2004 Expressions of Interest

The Warden would be grateful of some assistance in the following matter.

Mr Hugh Howey, a former senior Student of the College, returned to Paul's in 2003 for some 'pleasant challenges' as Assistant Sub-Warden while completing his Dip Ed. Hugh anticipates taking up a teaching appointment in the New Year, and the College will need a new Assistant to the Sub-Warden.

Much of the role is covered in the assumption expressed in the title - that the person assists the Sub-Warden in a variety of settings; and the material descriptive of that position is found in this edition of Boomalakka. There may well be a Pauline who knows someone whose academic or professional pathway draws him to the College in 2004, and who might be the man for this position. Please let me know.

As well as inviting inquiries and expressions of interest, I take this opportunity to thank Hugh for his year as Assistant Sub-Warden and to wish him every success and happiness in his teaching career.

Ivan Head, Warden.

When not working, he enjoys living in an island resort! Tim Elder (96-98) - his band Appleseed has just been signed for a record deal to Laughing Outlaw Records in Sydney. Stuart Dear (93-96) is still working at Credit Suisse in Sydney, where he manages fixed income portfolios. He recently sailed around Cape York in a two-man catamaran with an old school friend. He's planning some further overseas travel in 2004. Cam Storey (96-98) has taken up a posting as lead Sports Writer with the Griffith Area News. Tom McKay (95-98) and Angus Munro (95-97) have just completed an extensive tour through South America. In Peru the highlight of their trip was a traditional moonlight barbecue with eight Bosnian tourists and an Israeli in the shadows of the great Inca ruins. Tom has returned to work in the finance industry in London, whilst Angus is due back in Australia at year's end. Alex Blomfield (96-98) is working as a lawyer at Corrs Chambers Westgarth in IT, studying a Masters of International Law at Sydney University part time; and coordinating a national music festival as a fundraiser for Amnesty International. Henry Thirlwall (97-98) has just returned from almost two years overseas where he spent almost seven months in Nepal placing people in volunteer programs. Nigel Conolly (95-98) does Business Development for ESRI Australia, the Geographic Information Systems specialists, in the Sydney office.

'Peter Boulton Day'

A pre-season, fifty-over cricket match was held on the College Oval on Sunday 21 September between St Paul's College and a Residual SUCC Firsts and Fifts side. The day provided an enjoyable sporting fixture, included a luncheon, and an opportunity for the men in College to remember Peter Boulton (01-02) who died in 2002 after a lengthy battle with cancer. Many parents, friends and Old Boys participated in the day, bringing picnic lunches and BBQ supplies. During the luncheon break, many participated in a golf-chipping competition to see who could get closest to the stumps. The College Chapel Service on Tuesday 23 September included a charity collection, which augmented the funds raised at the cricket.
