

	RECCOMENDATION	ACTION at June 2019	ACTION at June 2020
1	Building on Recommendation 2 from the 2017 report, Cultural Renewal at the University of Sydney Residential Colleges, (that 'the Council should champion cultural reform') the Council should actively and visibly support the Warden as he implements cultural reform strategies across St Paul's College.	The College Council strongly supports the cultural reform strategies being implemented by the Warden across St Paul's College. This is evident from the publication of the Broderick Report and the Action Plan for Cultural Renewal, and from Council's support for the actions documented in this progress report. The Warden reports on progress in implementation of the Action Plan at each Council meeting, and the Chair of the Council has publicly supported the program in public remarks.	Previously reported actions have continued since the June 2019 progress report.
2	All staff should undergo ethical leadership training, provided by an independent expert.	In February 2019, staff undertook training on Ethical Leadership to Prevent Sexual Violence in Universities, delivered by the Full Stop Foundation, part of Rape and Domestic Violence Services Australia. Key response staff have also undertaken first responder training, Responding With Compassion, delivered by the Full Stop Foundation. This training focused on how to receive a disclosure of sexual assault or sexual harassment.	The Warden, as a new member of staff, completed this training in quarter 1 2020. The Dean of Undergraduates, as a new member of staff, has completed several courses in responding and ethical leadership prior to commencing his role. Staff attended student training also.
3	The Council and the Warden should strongly reinforce to students and the wider College community that, as provided in Section 14 of the St Paul's College Act [1854], the Warden has responsibility for the well-being of the	The College's new By-laws (adopted on 4 February 2019, after the coming into effect of the St Paul's College Act 2018 ) reinforce the Warden's responsibility for the wellbeing of the students and the College, including through using the same language	The Warden continues to reinforce to the students, parents, alumni, friends and staff of the College his responsibility for the well-being of the students and the College through the following means:

4	A clearer staff structure should be implemented with clear role descriptions and reporting lines. This staffing structure should include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The appointment of a staff member with full-time responsibility for overseeing and supporting the undergraduate student body. This appointment would be consistent with the staff model to be implemented for Graduate House.</li> <li>• The appointment of a staff member with full-time responsibility for student support and care, particularly given the significant increases in the undergraduate student population.</li> </ul>	The appointments of staff members in 2018 and 2019 have helped to clarify staff structure and reporting lines. These include (all in full-time roles) a new Senior Tutor; the Dean of Graduate House; a new College Registrar; a new College Business Manager; as well as the full-time appointment of the College Chaplain. As previously committed to, the College is developing an appointment process for a staff member with full-time responsibility for overseeing and supporting the undergraduate student body. The Chaplain, the Revd Antony Weiss, who has long experience in pastoral care for students, was appointed on a full-time basis from 2019, with responsibility for student support and care, working in close conjunction with the Warden, Sub- Warden, Senior Tutor, and others. He coordinates the Peer Support Leaders appointed in response to recommendation 10 below. The new Senior Tutor, Mr Philip Barr, provides full-time academic support for students.	The College staff structure was amended in the last quarter of 2019 and the first quarter of 2020. The following appointments were made: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Appointment of the new Warden, Rev'd Dr Edward Loane.</li> <li>- Appointment of the full-time Dean of Undergraduates, Mr Casey White.</li> </ul> The College is undertaking further staff-structural assessment over the remainder of 2020. From 2020 the Dean of Undergraduates together with the Chaplain both hold responsibility for student support and care and the management of the Peer Support Leaders that were previously appointed in response to recommendation 10.

5	The Warden, in consultation with the Senior Student should review the convenorship model to ensure that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• All convenorship roles are fair and appropriate, and contribute meaningfully to College life</li> <li>• Proper role descriptions are made available to students and staff of the College before students apply for a convenorship role</li> <li>• Additional criteria be considered for earning room points, for example, community service, academic and other achievements; and to ensure consistency in their allocation</li> <li>• Provision should also be made for deducting room points for poor discipline, damage or the like.</li> </ul>	An initial review of convenorships for 2019 has been undertaken by the Warden in consultation with the Senior Student and an external adviser. Role descriptions were written by the Students' Club, working with the Sub-Warden and approved by the Warden, for all convenorships. These stressed the voluntary nature of convenorships and were available in advance of students applying for a role. Convenorships have also been the subject of consideration in the review of "traditions" undertaken by Christie Breakspear, and this will provide input to further review of convenorships in semester 2, 2019, and prior to the start of the 2020 academic year. The Warden, also in consultation with the Senior Student, will further review the room points system. The 2019 College Handbook has given greater clarity to the requirements for re-admission to the College from one year to the next.	The Warden received a copy of all 2020 convenorship position descriptions and reviewed them in conjunction with the Students' Club before their release to the student community. All room points have been reviewed by the Warden and the College By-Laws state that room allocation is the responsibility of the Warden. There currently isn't a provision for the deduction of room-points for poor behaviour, damage etc... however there are other disciplinary and conduct systems which address these issues. These systems are outlined in the College Handbook and on the College Website and through the 2020 Community Standards and Conduct Breach procedure. The College will assess the room-points system on an annual basis in conjunction with the Students Club.
6	Each year all students enrolling at or returning to St Paul's College should be required to sign a code of conduct that unequivocally sets out the rules and expectations of the College and the adverse outcomes for code breaches.	The College has developed a new Code of Conduct, published both in the revised College Handbook and on the College website, which lays out clearly what behaviour is acceptable and unacceptable, and the consequences of	The practices implemented have continued in 2020 in the same manner with some revisions made in the publication of the most recent College Handbook.

		unacceptable behaviour. All new and returning students have been required to sign to indicate their understanding and acceptance of the Code of Conduct, and this is now part of the process of taking up a place in College.
7	Any practice that includes negative elements of student hierarchy should be reformed.	The Warden has worked with the Sub-Warden, the Senior Tutor, the Chaplain and the Senior Student to identify negative elements of student hierarchy. Some practices that included negative elements of student hierarchy, such as hazing, have been prohibited. A list of so-called “traditions”, including those that include negative elements of student hierarchy, is part of the in-progress review of so-called “traditions” by Christie Breakspear (see rec 24). This will be the subject of decisions and action in Semester 2, 2019. Other aspects of College life have already been reformed, such as revising role descriptions for student leadership positions to stress the importance of creating a welcoming, respectful and inclusive environment.	With the appointment of a new Warden in 2020 and the departure of the previous Warden mid-semester 2 2019, alongside the impact of COVID-19 requiring the College to suspend the majority of its operations, the decisions and actions on the Breakspear “Traditions” Report have been delayed to quarter 3 2020. However, they have remained a key-topic of review and assessment by the College senior staff across the first-half of 2020. Additional actions include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Rotating invitations for all students to sit on the High-Table for formal dinner</li> <li>- The College’s anti-bullying and hazing policy</li> <li>- Continued discussion in quarter 3 &amp; 4 about the “Traditions” report</li> <li>- Changes to the seating requirements in the Hall during 2020</li> </ul>

This included elements such as first aid and mental health, as well as training on aspects of ethical leadership, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• What does it mean to be leaders against sexism?, delivered by associates from Elizabeth Broderick's team</li> <li>• Consent, Sex and Ethics, delivered by the Full Stop Foundation (Rape and Domestic Violence Services Australia)</li> </ul> Responding with Compassion, focused on how to respond to a disclosure of sexual assault or sexual harassment, also delivered by the Full Stop Foundation <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• How to build a welcoming and inclusive community, delivered by Christie Breakspear with a focus on preventing hazing and bullying</li> <li>• Traditions, a discussion about</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Cultural Renewal and the Future of St Paul's</li> <li>- Ethical Leadership and the Future of St Paul's</li> <li>- Bystander Intervention</li> <li>- Managing Alcohol at College</li> <li>- Leadership Skills</li> <li>- Responding with Compassion</li> <li>- Handling Student Issues</li> <li>- Preventing Bullying and Harassment</li> <li>- First-Aid</li> <li>- Mental Health</li> </ul> Responsibility for student leadership training sits with the respective Deans and is being assessed in preparation for 2021.

9	The St Paul's College By-laws should be amended to ensure that the Warden has the power to suspend a student for a period longer than two months or expel a student for misconduct and unacceptable behaviour.	The new College By-laws adopted by the Council on 4 February 2019 now provide, as recommended, that the Warden has the power to suspend a student or to expel a student for misconduct and unacceptable behaviour. The new Code of Conduct, which is published in the revised College Handbook and on the College website, and other policies published in the Handbook and on the website (e.g. the Sexual Misconduct Policy) make clear that breaches may result in penalties including suspension or expulsion following an investigation process.	Practice continues the same.
10	A Peer Support program (such as a Residential Assistant program or similar) should be established for both the undergraduate and postgraduate student	A program of Peer Support Leaders has been established for both the undergraduate community and for Graduate House. These relationships between freshers and Peer Support Leaders have been actively maintained since Welcome Week. Peer Support Leaders meet regularly with the Chaplain (in the undergraduate community) and with the Dean of Graduate House (in Graduate House). These meetings help ensure that staff are kept informed of any welfare concerns of which Peer Support Leaders are aware arising in the College, and also provide an opportunity to support Peer Supporters in their role.	at the end of 2019 with additional responsibilities and changes made in preparation for 2020. With the appointment of the full-time Dean of Undergraduates responsibility for the management of the Peer Support Leaders is shared between the Dean and the Chaplain in the Undergraduate Community and between the Dean of Graduate House and the Associate Dean of Graduate House in the Graduate Community. Peer Support Leaders again received training in Leadership Week and will commence meeting face-to-face again once the College resumes operations after COVID-19. Meetings continue via Zoom. The Deans and Chaplain are currently reviewing the activity statement to enhance the position and amending some practices to better define the role in preparation for 2021. Recruitment for the positions will commence in October 2020.

		These meetings also provide appropriate, ongoing support for Peer Support Leaders to minimise the risk of vicarious trauma from student disclosures. Support available to assist in handling vicarious trauma also formed part of the Responding With Compassion training delivered by the Full Stop Foundation to Peer Support Leaders and others in February 2019.

13	Students' commitment to diversity and inclusion should be assessed at interview and form one criterion for admittance to the College.	Admission interviews conducted by the Senior Tutor already include discussions with applicants on the College's need for and the value of greater diversity. Applicants' stance on sexism, sexual harassment, and sexual assault are also gauged as far as is respectfully possible. Applicants from backgrounds currently not strongly represented in the College demographic are strongly encouraged by the Senior Tutor and Registrar in their application for admission and, where appropriate, for financial assistance.	This practice is continuing in 2020.
14	St Paul's College should deliver strong messaging to students and the College community about the benefits and value of diversity and inclusion to the College. This should include inviting a range of senior leaders to discuss how a focus on diversity, inclusion and culture has enhanced their organisation. The College should review all systems, processes and practices to ensure they do not inadvertently exclude any category of student.	In messaging to students and the broader community, the Warden and College staff regularly state our aspiration for breadth, diversity and inclusion, and our unequivocal and unshakeable commitment to respect and dignity for all, including equality of respect regardless of gender. The College has invited speakers with strong experience in promoting and benefiting from diversity and inclusion, and will continue to do so. For example, Ms Julie McKay, Chief Diversity and Inclusion Officer at PwC Australia, spoke at the inaugural combined Commencement Dinner for students of St Paul's College and The Women's College, and Associate Professor Eric Knight	The Warden has utilised his addresses during the College year to reinforce these messages, in particular during Welcome and Leadership weeks and at formal dinners. Monday evening formal dinners are now linked with a speaker series that aims to provide a wide range of views on diversity, inclusion and culture and a balance of male and female speakers. The series was, unfortunately, placed on hold due to COVID-19. Planning will commence in Quarter 3 for potential speakers for Semester Two. New residents to College participated in Positive Relationships workshops during welcome week. The workshop emphasises diversity and inclusion and its importance to College life. With the additional slow-down due to COVID-19,

The College has invited eminent female speakers to Faculty Dinners, such as Dr Emily Granger and Professor Anne Twomey. Seven of the regular academic dinner seminars in Graduate House during Semester 1, 2019, were delivered by women, including internationally renowned leaders in their fields such as Professor Amanda Salis and Professor Celine Boehm. All fresher undergraduates went to small-group training sessions during Welcome Week on How to build a welcoming and inclusive community, delivered by Christie Breakspear. These sessions included the importance of welcoming people from a wide variety of backgrounds. Ms Breakspear also delivered a presentation to Graduate House, Diversity Matters, discussing the benefits of diversity within a community. As part of its ongoing review of all systems, processes and practices, as the College grows and diversifies, the College is ensuring that we do not inadvertently exclude any category of student.	the college will turn its attention to reviewing its speaker programs in the mid-year break.

16	St Paul's College should reform the current model of students managing all operations of the College Bar. Options for new management may include contracting a professionally qualified commercial provider or externally recruiting a professionally qualified bar or hotel manager who report directly to the Warden or his delegate. The liquor licence for St Paul's College should be held by whoever is appointed to this role. The College would under all circumstances retain the right to determine the policy under which the Bar operates, including (for example) to close the Bar at any time.	The College continues to support the provision of a licensed bar within the College for College students, staff, and guests. The College made significant changes to the operation of the College Bar for the 2019 academic year. St Paul's College should collaborate with the University of Sydney and other University of Sydney Residential Colleges to engage an expert independent provider, trained in trauma- informed care and support to:

- Be a first point of contact for University of Sydney students, including Residential College students (contactable by various means including social media) who have experienced sexual harassment and sexual assault
- Take both full and confidential reports from these students. In the case of a confidential report, the student may elect not to name the alleged perpetrator or proceed with an investigation. They will nevertheless be provided with appropriate support
- Support these students who make a full report through any investigation process
- Offer a range of referrals to students, including medical and counselling services
- Provide de-identified data to the

The Heads of Colleges at the University of Sydney engaged an external expert to advise on how this recommendation might be given effect, and related matters. A decision was subsequently made by the Heads of Colleges not to engage an expert independent provider, as proposed, in view of the resources which the University has committed to support in this area, which are available and advertised to students in colleges.

The College continues to work with the University and with other residential colleges on initiatives to prevent, and respond ethically to, sexual harassment and sexual assault. For example, the College advertises (in its Handbook and on posters around the College) the University hotline for making disclosures, complaints, or reports.

The College is continuing to utilise the resources of the University in this regard.

35 2017-8	To enhance inclusion and equality within the student community, any practice that reinforces negative elements of student hierarchy should be reviewed with a view to modification.	This recommendation is being acted upon as per the implementation described in Recommendation 7, above.	This practice continues in 2020.

36 2017-9	Councils should continue to support the College Heads and all staff to implement the recommendations and champion cultural reform, including by ensuring staff resources are adequate and by providing staff with access to additional training or skills development as needed.	The Council has shown support for cultural change, outlined in implementation steps set out in recommendations 1 and 29, above.	This practice continues in 2020.
37 2017-10	To better reflect the leadership role and status of staff, the collective term for those who lead and manage the College should be changed from 'Administration' to either 'Staff', 'Executive Leadership' or 'Management'.	The language most commonly used at St Paul's is already to refer to "the staff" or "the office", as well as to individual staff members.	This practice continues in 2020.
38 2017-11	Colleges, in consultation with the University of Sydney, should develop targeted strategies to attract and retain a diverse population of students that reflects the University population and broader community.	The College is working with the University to help increase the diversity of its undergraduate populations and to help create a diverse community in Graduate House. As reflected at recommendation 12, we have had a stronger and more energetic presence at the University Open Days in combination with our own College Open Day. We will continue to strengthen our ties with the University of Sydney's Sydney Abroad, Accommodation Services, the University of Sydney Union, and other University bodies in order to promote the College to a diverse range of domestic and international students.	This practice continues in 2020. The University of Sydney and Colleges should work together to foster greater connection between Colleges and the broader campus community including by:

- Developing, in collaboration with the Colleges, and investing in a positive campaign that raises awareness among the University of Sydney campus community of the value of and strong contribution by the Colleges to campus life.
- Creating shared learning communities, including the creation of learning spaces within the Colleges, where College students and non-College students can come together for academic tutorials or other forums.

The College has been actively promoting greater connection with the broader campus community in various ways, such as through invitations to come to St Paul's (including on Open Day), invitations to participate in the Broderick Review itself, activities to raise awareness of Graduate House, and the like. The University and College Dinner is a highlight of the undergraduate community year, and University staff are invited to various events at the College. We have also, for example, continued to host the History of University Life seminar.

We invite non-college students to various events at the College, such as some Faculty Dinners, and in 2019 have implemented new initiatives to make it easier for students to welcome non-college guests to meals in College. In Semester 2, 2019 the College intends to host a dinner for representatives of University faculty societies, together with USU and SRC office- bearers.

We will continue to expand such activities, and will continue to discuss with senior officers of the University how best to raise awareness among the University community of the value of and strong contribution by this and other colleges to campus life.

In various communications, we highlight the fact that, in the terms of the St Paul's

Due to the restrictions placed by COVID-19 the College has had limited practice in 2020. The following have been planned or already taken place:

- University societies dinner in 2019
- Continuation of the History of University Life seminars

		College Acts of 1854 and 2018, St Paul's is "a College of and within the University". We emphasise that we are determined to be an asset to the University. The partnership between the College and the University is especially evident in the building projects for the Ivan Head Building and the McMillan Building (which houses Graduate House), in which the University leases over 2,000 square metres of teaching and administrative space from the College. These new spaces also see more frequent visits to the College from students and staff across the University for classes and examinations. We continue to highlight the benefits of Graduate House to all faculties. For example, it provides visiting scholars and University academic staff, as well as postgraduate students, the opportunity to live in a collegiate community at the heart of the University campus. Since its opening in 2019, it has become a home to academics from fields including business, law, medicine, engineering, biochemistry and government, as well as frequently hosting academics attending conferences at the University. Graduate House has hosted events, such as "Welcome To Sydney" events for postgraduate students from outside Sydney,

41 2017-14	The University of Sydney should make it clear in its code of conduct that disrespectful, demeaning or unethical behaviours from University staff and other students towards College students and staff are strictly prohibited.	We will continue to work with the University leadership to ensure that the prohibition on such behaviours is more widely understood throughout the University.	This practice continues in 2020.
42 2017-15	'O Week' should be renamed to signal a shift towards induction and welcome, and away from the problematic connotations and expectations of the past.	Like the University of Sydney and the other colleges, the College has renamed "O Week" and now uses the term "Welcome Week", in line with this recommendation and the broader University approach.	This practice continues in 2020.
43 2017-16	Orientation should be closely overseen by College staff with assistance from Residential Assistants, Resident Advisers, Deans, Sub-Deans and Corridor Representatives and select student leaders.	Welcome Week and all other orientation activities are closely overseen by College staff. The Welcome Week program is designed by the Warden and Sub-Warden, in conjunction with the Students' Club Committee (SCC). 44 2017- 17	Each College should develop a policy that clearly articulates the purpose of orientation with a focus on induction and inclusion into the College and University community. The policy should be underpinned by respect and safety, inclusion and equity, and ethical leadership. Student leaders involved in the program should be required to sign a code of conduct that reflects the intent of the policy. The Fresher Pack includes a copy of the revised College Handbook, letters of welcome from the Warden and Senior Student, and other documents which clearly articulate the purpose of Welcome Week as being induction and inclusion into the College and University community. Welcome Week in 2019 was considered particularly successful, with a combination of alcohol-free events, training, peer support meetings, and social events among new	This practice continues in 2020. Recommendation 8 outlines training that took place in 2020. The College is currently reviewing its event management and risk-assessment process during the mid-year break to align with University and best-practice standards for safety, security and wellbeing.

45 2017- 18	The Heads of College should develop a common approach to alcohol harm minimisation. This approach should consider best practice interventions to reduce access/supply and demand of alcohol, and to reduce harm caused by alcohol. The Heads of College may also seek advice from an expert in harm minimisation and drinking patterns of the College age cohort to assist in developing this approach. In particular the Project Team recommends: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The positions of licensees and bar management should be held by qualified individuals or organisations independent of the Student Club and contracted by College staff.</li> <li>• Commercial bar rates should be charged for all alcohol at College events and venues and as such the use of Student Club fees for the purchase of alcohol should be prohibited.</li> <li>• A zero-tolerance</li> </ul>	The Heads of Colleges have discussed common approaches to alcohol harm minimisation, including consulting an external expert, but have not developed a common approach. St Paul's College has taken actions to reduce harm from alcohol, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Hiring a Bar Manager for the College Bar and transferring the bar licence to the Sub-Warden</li> <li>• Introducing more commercial pricing for alcoholic drinks in the College Bar</li> <li>• Making clear in the College's new Code of Conduct that it is unacceptable behaviour to be under the influence of excessive alcohol or to induce or promote excessive drinking in others</li> <li>• Clear provision in the Code of Conduct that students are responsible for damage caused due to unacceptable behaviour.</li> </ul>	This practice continues in 2020. The Heads of Colleges also agreed to the following principles for Welcome Week 2020: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- No more than two colleges will be present at any event during Welcome Week, with the exception of the Thursday evening Formal Dinner;</li> <li>- For any Intercollege event to go ahead, an invitation must be issued by a College Head, and accepted by another;</li> <li>- Each College will have at least one alcohol free day;</li> <li>- The intercollege formal dinner will take place on Thursday night at each College;</li> <li>- No alcohol may be served before 4pm on any given day;</li> <li>- No College may participate in back-to-back events, where both events involve alcohol.</li> </ul>
